

The diagram shows the orthographic projection of a cone. The front view on the left is a triangle with a vertical centerline and a horizontal base. The top view on the right is a circle with a vertical centerline. The two views are aligned horizontally by a common centerline.